Storm-Battered Northeast Digs Out of Heavy Snow

Tempest Costs 56 Lives, Hurts Transportation

NEW YORK, March 17 (AP)—The storm-battered Northeast today dug slowly out of a mountain of snow heaped upon it by a violent winter's-end tempest which cost 71 lives, staggered transportation and smashed several ocean-going vessels ashore.

Five other persons died in a Maine fire at the height of the storm.

There was no immediate estimate of property damage but the fury of the blow—with winds of 70 miles an hour at some points—made it one of the worst ever recorded so late in the season.

Spring is due to arrive in only four days.

The snow, rain, sleet and gales which began early yesterday ravaged a vast region stretching from Virginia to Ohio and into Canada for nearly 24 hours.

The wind whipped up thunderous waves that pounded coastal areas, drove many residents inland and battered shipping both in port and at sea.

Deaths by states were:

Massachusetts 16, New York 15, Rhode Island 10, Connecticut 6, New Jersey 4, Ohio 11, Maine 3, Maryland 1, New Hampshire 1 and Pennsylvania 4.

Air and automobile travel was all but brought to a standstill. Many trains were delayed.

Thousands of automobiles were abandoned along city streets and country highways alike as angry skies deluged numerous areas with nearly two feet of snow. Wind swept it into mountainous drifts.

Between Sturbridge and Auburn, Mass., more than 700 persons were marooned in their cars overnight. Civil Defense officials in towns along the 19-mile route mobilized under emergency procedures to aid police in rescuing them.

Hundreds of car accidents occurred before the height of the storm, accounting for a number of lives lost. Many additional deaths were attributed to heart failures caused by overexertion in shoveling snow or struggling through high drifts.

Five ships were driven aground. These included three destroyers and a frigate which had been anchored off Newport, R. I.

The Navy vessels were torn from their moorings and thrust ashore. As morning came, bodies of three Navy men were found in an open launch that drifted onto a beach.

An Italian freighter, the Etrusco was blown almost out of the water near Scituate, Mass., by winds up to 70 miles an hour.

Second Polio Clinic in Series Due Thursday

The second polio clinic of a series of three is to be held at the National Guard Armory on Thursday morning, March 22. Dr. T. J. Hopkins, chairman of the polio committee has announced.

The Pettis County Medical Society members will be in charge and local doctors will administer the vaccine shots, the same as they have done in the past.

Due to the great shortage in vaccine the shots to be given will be limited to only those who need the first or the second shot. No third shot will be given at this time. It was also explained the third shot is not necessarily needed at this time as it serves only as a booster and those who have received two shots have sufficient vaccine to be a preventative.

These who can receive the vaccine are children from one to 14 years old and expectant mothers.

Registration will begin at the Armory at 8:30 a.m. Administering of the shots starts at 9 a.m. and will continue until 11 a.m.

We Were Fortunate

While we were concerned with three inches of snow, the Northeast was getting from one foot to two feet of the same material, and the damage was immense, in both lives and property.

One Sedalian Didn't Sway—Humor With Harmony Sparks Arizona Boys Chorus Concert

Humor with harmony sparked the Community Concert of the Tucson Arizona Boys Chorus at Smith-Cotton Friday night.

The 32 boys under the direction of Eduardo Caso presented a program that ranged from the most serious classic to lighthearted modern music. Ranging in age from 8 to 16 they performed with showmanship of top professionals.

Starting off the program was an a cappella group of classics and spirituals. The first number was "Gloucester Wassail" arranged by Tom Scott and followed by "Little Jesus Came to Town" by Coll James. "Were You There" a spiritual, "Alleluia" by Thompson and "Hospodi Pomiloi" by Lvovsky.

Several Pets Are Destroyed By House Fire

Three pet dogs and several parakeets lost their lives in a fire at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. "Bob" Burlingame, 223 East 28th, about 12:08 p.m. Saturday. The origin of the fire was undetermined by the fire department officials.

Members of the family had departed the home some time before, Mr. and Mrs. Burlingame accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Steve Math, who had been living at the home, left for Pittsville lakes, west of Pittsville, Mo., on a fishing trip.

Neighbors, when they discovered the fire, said smoke was pouring from around the doors, windows and out from under the roof. When fire companies arrived they had to lay out a line of hose more than 1,200 feet before water could be used to extinguish the flames.

During the fire explosions were heard, and it was believed several shotguns shells exploded because of the intense heat and the picture tubes on two television sets exploded. The front two rooms were badly charred from the fire, and the kitchen was smoked and blistered from the intense heat and fire.

One little dog was found under a cabinet in the kitchen, another in a west room and the third in an east room, all had suffocated from the smoke. The parakeets were burned in their cages.

Fire department officials estimated the damage to the residence at $1,500 and to the contents $1,000.

At High School Auditorium—

S-C Music Department Gives Mid-Winter Concert Tuesday

The Smith-Cotton High School Orchestra, Band and Mixed Chorus will present a concert in the school auditorium Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

The orchestra will open the program playing a suite in four movements, "Petite Suite de Ballet" by Gluck. This will be followed by a string novelty, "Plink, Plank, Plunk" by Leroy Anderson. Closing the first part of the program will be a descriptive sketch, "In a Persian Market" by Ketelby, and "Perpetual Motion" by Bohm.

A selected mixed chorus will appear following the orchestra to sing three selections, "Deep River," arranged by Burleigh, "Go to Dark Gethsemane," and closing with a

The second group were in a lighter vein with such numbers as "Echo Song" by Di Lasso, "Red Rosey Bush" an English folk song and "Haste The Nymph (laughing song)" from "L'Allegro" by Handel.

Closing the first half of the program was "Waltzing Matilda" by Cowan, during which director Caso urged audience participation in swaying from side to side with the chorus, announcing that non-swaying members of the audience would be penalized.

A member of the chorus caught Miss Patricia Menefee apparently not swaying with the group and she was brought to the stage. She was placed in the center of the group for another chorus of the song after which she was presented with a corsage and an autographed souvenir program.

The second half of the program opened on a typical desert scene, with tall cacti in the background and the youthful cowboys in an irregular semi-circle around an easily imagined campfire. The group of songs proved one of the most popular of the evening and included the presentation of remarkable solo voices in some of the numbers.

Realistic sound effects such as hoofbeats and coyote howls helped carry the audience into the mood of the setting and made "Blue Shadows on the Trail" an outstanding number in the group, which was followed by a short demonstration of trick roping by six of the boys.

Other numbers in the western scene were "Blue Prairie," "Lie Low Little Doggies," "Cool Water," "Ragtime Cowboy Joe," and "Tumbling Tumble Weeds."

The group departed from the printed program in the last part and presented numbers from "South Pacific" and "Oklahoma" and many encores. Among them were "Comin' Thru the Rye," with one of the boys dressed as a girl and taking the solo and a French melody in which the boys hummed all the way through.

Other encores were "Hedge Rose" by Schubert, "Morning" by O. Speaks, "Over the Rainbow" with another one of the boys taking a solo, "Thumblina," "El Rancho Grande," and for the finale, the audience joined in singing the "The Star Spangled Banner."

During intermission Ralph M. Carrel, president of the Community Concert Association, conducted a short business meeting during which Russell Maag, Mrs. Herbert Mason, Mrs. James Jolly and Mrs. (Please turn to page 6, Column 8)

GOP Committee Officers Elected Here Saturday

The Republican City Committee met Saturday night at the County Court room at which time Mrs. Cleo Schumacher, the chairman, presided. Election of the committee officers was held.

Mrs. Schumacher was elected the chairman; W. D. Smith, vice-chairman; Mrs. Fred Handley, secretary; and Herbert Seifert, treasurer.

The fourth ward presented the name of George Dugan Jr., as the candidate for councilman from that ward. The committee approved the selection.

To date the Republicans have selected but two other candidates for office which were ratified by the convention the past week. They were, Paul Hausam as the first ward candidate for councilman and L. E. Sheridan as the third ward candidate.

The convention voted to give the committee the authority to fill the ticket as to the other offices. The committee is expected to meet the first part of the week after consultation with prospective candidates can be made, and then the effort to fill the ticket will be made.

Earthquakes Kill 127 In Lebanon

Three Tremors Hit Within Five Minutes During the Night

BEIRUT, Lebanon, March 17 (AP)—Troops and rescue workers searched for bodies among the ruins of houses in 25 Lebanese earthquake-stricken towns and villages today.

Altogether 127 people were believed dead and more than 200 were injured in the worst earthquakes in Lebanese memory.

Three tremors at five minute intervals struck last night. They sent people rushing panic-stricken from their tottering homes into the fields and onto the beaches.

The worst hit community was the little mountain village of Shiheem. Thirty-two bodies were brought out from the rubble this morning while fresh tremors rocked the village and mourning women wailed in the streets.

Ruins looked like the aftermath of an air raid.

Villagers crouched with their belongings in open spaces. They were afraid to return to the remains of their houses.

The first quake shook the houses and weakened the structures. It awakened most of the occupants and sent them out into the streets.

There, shivering in rain and cold, they saw their homes collapse under the second tremor.

One family of six slept through the first tremor and was wiped out by the second.

Roads leading to the village were strewn with boulders, loosened by landslides.

In Beirut, the capital walls shook and crumbled but little damage was done.

Harmony prevailed at the Democratic city convention held Saturday night in the Circuit Court room of the courthouse. No opposition was presented to any of the names nominated for office on the ticket, and one new name was presented on the ticket to run for office at the city election to be held Tuesday, April 3.

Presiding over the meeting was Walter C. Cramer, city chairman, who himself was re-elected for a term of two years along with Mrs. Sam Brown, re-elected as secretary of the city committee.

Judge R. L. Weinrich, city magistrate, had previously announced he would not seek re-election this year. In his place Willard Morris, well known Sedalian, was unanimously chosen to run for the office of City Police Magistrate.

The following office holders were nominated as candidates on the ticket to succeed themselves in office: Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors for Chief of Police; Paul Alpert for City Collector; James E. Durlay for City Attorney; John M. Blue for City Assessor; Mrs. Claude Brown, for City Treasurer.

City Councilmen nominated to succeed themselves were: Harry Moore, First Ward; Ronald "Doc" Snively, Second Ward; Dr. Ira White, Third Ward and Carleton Kelley, Fourth Ward.

William F. Brown whose term as a Member of the Sedalia School Board ends this spring was nominated to succeed himself as the Democratic member of the Board. Nomination and ratification of this office at the city convention is the same as election to the office.

Following the nominations Chairman Cramer called upon each candidate to rise and be introduced. Each candidate gave a brief talk of appreciation in accepting the nomination.

Mayor Julian H. Bagby, a delegate from the First Ward, was called upon and reviewed the accomplishments of the present administration. He told of the achievements made over the past two years and plans in the making to make Sedalia a "better place to live."

In his talk he praised the candidates who are at present in office and of the cooperation he has had with each through the city affairs.

Marilyn Takes Fall While Filming Movie

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 17 (AP)—Shapely film star Marilyn Monroe tumbled from a five-foot ramp while filming a movie here yesterday, skinning both knees while a rodeo crowd of more than 10,000 gasped.

Joshua Logan, directing the film "Bus Stop," had asked the crowd to watch Miss Monroe as the cameras filmed the rodeo scene. Naturally, they did.

Sedalian Wins Second Place In Speaking

Hugh Jones, member of the Sedalia Toastmasters Club, No. 1651, won second place in the annual area speech contest conducted by Toastmasters International held in Kansas City on Friday at the World War II Memorial Building.

Each Toastmasters Club in Area 3, District No. 22, was represented. Jones won his right to compete in the area contest by winning the local Sedalia contest.

There were eight speakers in the contest with the winners as follows: first, Jerry Burdette, Bendix Royal Club, Kansas City, speaking on "Honesty in Advertising"; second, Hugh Jones, Sedalia, speaking on "The Best Assurance Policy"; and third, John Hutman, Farmers Insurance Club, Kansas City. The three winners were presented trophies by the district governor, J. C. Saunders of Carthage.

Mr. Jones is now entitled to enter the district speech contest to be held in Topeka, Kan., April 29. A large group of Sedalia Toastmasters and their wives attended the contest in Kansas City.

Tom Sawyer of the Sedalia Club was chosen as one of the six judges and Aubrey Owen, Sedalia, served as chief clerk.

Khrushchev Tries To Crush Myth Of Ex-Dictator

LONDON, March 17 (AP)—Stories seeping through the Iron Curtain of riots in Soviet Georgia and of denunciation of Stalin as a murdering, blundering psychopath apparently upset the Kremlin's top lieutenants here today.

News dispatches from Western capitals and official diplomatic advices here and in Washington told a shadowy story of attempts by Russia's new leaders to blacken Stalin's memory. These were reported to have triggered disorders in Georgia, the dead dictator's birthplace. Nine persons were reported killed on March 7 while protesting the anti-Stalin campaign.

Details differed but all reports agreed that Nikita Khrushchev, the Communist party boss, was leading the showdown effort to destroy the myth of Stalin as an infallible genius in order to bolster the new "collective leadership."

Soviet chiefs in London, including the deposed premier, Georgi Malenkov, showed nervous surprise, apparently because the reports were leaking to the West at this time.

Malenkov, for years Stalin's secretary, now is touring Britain in his role as Soviet minister of electric power stations.

He was in Moscow on Feb. 24 when Khrushchev was said in the reports to have made his attack on the dead dictator at a secret session of the 20th Congress of the Soviet Communist party. Presumably Malenkov knew all about it.

However, some of the reports said Malenkov was mentioned by Khrushchev in the attack as the man who kept him from reaching the dictator when he wanted to get more guns for the Ukraine during the war. Khrushchev presumably was primarily responsible for dropping Malenkov from the premier's job a year ago.

Regional Library Notes—

Books on Cooking, Buying Suggested for Homemakers

The Boonslick Regional Library salutes the homemakers of the area on March 17-24, National Home Economics Week. They are custodians of the health and happiness of our families. Their influence on our future is probably greater than any other single influence.

On this Home Economics Week, Boonslick Regional Library would like to pay its respects to the farm women's clubs and to their leaders. The United States Department of Agriculture with their County Agents and County Home Agents has one of the most efficient adult education programs in the world and much of the homemaker's knowledge is disseminated through these clubs.

For the business of homemaking, Boonslick Regional Library would suggest books on nutrition, cooking, dieting and marketing. New and old cook books, women's magazines and even some gardening books have ideas on food for the family. And if the teenagers haven't time to eat properly, perhaps books of advice to teen-agers might help too.

Books on sewing, tailoring, draperies and slip covers, on upholstering and refinishing furniture are available from the library. Books on landscaping, lawns, vegetable and flower gardens will help to improve the out of doors. Interior decoration, remodeling, painting and home plumbing are available.

But a homemaker does more than sew and cook and clean. To have a happy family, she has fun with her family. Books of games, of music and of ideas, even "The Family Fun Book" by Helen and Larry Eisenberg is available. Books of hobbies and handicrafts of directions for out of door barbecue ovens and indoor activities are available.

For bird watching or bug killing, for cooking or canning, the library can provide materials to help with planning. We suggest that it is more fun when the family works together at it.

We Finally Found That Long-Lost Cup of Flour

Somehow a cup of flour from Mrs. Ellis R. Hall's recipe for gingerbread which was sent in for the Democrat-Capitol Recipe Section seemed to have gotten lost somewhere. At least it didn't get in the recipe as it was supposed to be, and Mrs. Hall, who lives at LaMonte, began to receive calls about it. This was a prize recipe and it certainly wouldn't come out very well without that cup of flour. The recipe as it should be follows:

GINGERBREAD
1/2 cup molasses
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup melted shortening
1/2 cup milk
1 egg
1/2 teaspoon soda
1 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon
Dash of nutmeg.

Ground Observer Corps Needs More Volunteers

The Ground Observer Corps, a new program for Sedalia, coordinated with the Air Force and Civilian Defense, needs volunteers—men or women.

Observation posts are at this time being organized all over the United States, which are spaced approximately eight square miles apart. Sedalia has been chosen as one of these cities. Volunteers will give only two hours a week to train and operate this post which will be located on top of the Court House. W. Milton Jones is the post supervisor and Mrs. Ike L. Warren is chief observer.

The strength of the nation depends on individual participation in its defense. Anyone who would like to volunteer may call 4511 or 395.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The prettiest Easter Parade in years will star slim fashions worn with big, blossoming hats.

The combination of stem-like suits, and coats with lightweight but bulky hats, is no accident. It was planned that way to re-create the romantic, reedy look of the early 1900's.

This year's slim lines are not straight ones. They are supple, slightly curvy and, with many of the suits, semifitted. They take into account bustline, waistline and hipline and give them gentle curves.

In coats, these slender, easy-to-wear lines take the form of a fluid, unrestricted silhouette. Coats may be narrow or they may be full but the all-over impression is one of slim ease.

With this narrow line, designers have used top interest expressed in Empire lines or seaming, capelet sleeves and dropped shoulder lines. It's this top interest that so clearly marks a coat as being spring, 1936.

The mandarin coat and the caftan coat, both with simple lines, take on elegance for spring through embroidery or pretty silk print dresses to make up a costume.

In suits, the fresh look of the shorter jacket has erased the long tunic. These are soft, feminine jackets entirely devoid of a hard, tailored look. Most of them are softly rounded at the waistline.

For the rest, suits are simple, depending on detailing of fabric for interest. Skirts are slim but not rigid and many have pleats or back panel cuts. Many skirts are gored for walking ease. And even pleated skirts fall into slender lines.

Expert Says Child Should Learn to Read Critically

YPSILANTI, Mich. (U)—"Children must learn to distinguish between writing based on fact and writing that is merely ideas or emotions felt by the author," says a reading expert.

Dr. Kathleen B. Hester, professor of education at Michigan State Normal College, worries about whether children learn to read critically, so that they know what the author means.

"Every citizen should be able to recognize and discount propaganda and to evaluate ideas encountered in reading," she says.

She is more concerned about the child's understanding than whether teaching methods should include more use of phonics, or sounding out words, along with sight reading.

Dr. Hester, who works under the alert eye of her big white cat, Puppypat, has published a book on teaching children to read.

"This country has lost a lot of potential ability because of the inability to read," she says.

She is also co-author of a series of 20 reading books for elementary schools, putting her theories into practice.

Top Professional Athletes Carry Religion to Children

RELIGION IN SPORTS — Is more prevalent than ever. Carl Erskine, Brooklyn Dodger pitcher who holds the World Series strikeout record (14 batters in one game in 1953), takes time out to greet a Denver group which turned out to see and hear sports celebrities who are members of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

By LARRY FRIEDMAN
NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Robin Roberts pitches for Christianity and the Philadelphia Phillies of the National League.
"Most of you have read of ball players endorsing beer and cigarettes for money," Roberts told his audience. "We're here to endorse Christianity and God without receiving pay for it."
Big Dan Towler, one of pro football's greatest fullbacks, is on Roberts' team in a unique organization of athletes with a religious message.
"We who have been blessed beyond all measure have come here to share some of our vision of Christ with you," Towler said.
"Throughout our careers He has been a reservoir of strength. Those who refuse to let Him enrich their lives are afraid to take the step to Christianity. Every person can find the golden road to happiness, success and service through surrender to Christ."
About eight years ago a sophomore at Oklahoma AM College conceived the idea of having great athletes share their religious beliefs with the youth of the nation.

Don McClanen's idea was slow to form, but today, the Fellowship of Christian Athletes has developed nationally. Many of the banner names of the sports pages participate.
McClanen, a 31-year-old Oklahoma, explains his reason for starting the movement:
"I became aware of the rising problem of juvenile delinquency. I realized that we are a hero-worshipping people, especially in sports. That gave me the idea that we could whip the delinquency situation by setting the kids straight."
The FCA now has a staff of more than 100 bit-time athletes and clergymen with a sports background. They hold meetings in high schools, colleges and youth clubs, speaking informally to the youngsters and telling them what God has meant to them in their athletic endeavors.
The list of athletes on the FCA staff include from football, Otto

New Changes Cut Violence On Alcatraz

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A cautious series of increased privileges for prisoners and stricter security measures has reduced violence on bloody Alcatraz. But there's no intention of abandoning the maximum security prison in the near future.

This was indicated to newsmen by Warden Paul J. Madigan in a rare mass tour of The Rock this week by reporters, photographers and television cameramen. The Department of Justice invited them to make the visit in response to requests.
Although they live behind rose-colored bars only 1 1/2 miles from San Francisco, life on the island in San Francisco Bay is no bed of roses for its 281 prisoners. They Bob Richards, Olympic pole vault champion, and coaches Forrest (Phog) Allen, Harry Stuhldreher, Biggie Munn, Dean Cromwell and Tad Weiman.

How is the program financed? "Strictly from volunteer contributions," McClanen says. "We make no concerted drive for money."
McClanen explains that when a team of athletes goes into a city, they arrange to speak at a business men's luncheon. "We usually are able to get sufficient volunteer contributions at the luncheons to keep us going."
The FCA completed a big program at Denver in January and are the most dangerous, the most rebellious of convicts in all federal prisons.

Major changes made over a period of 20 years include (1) permitting men to converse with their neighbors in cell blocks or at the dining table, (2) letting them see two movies a month, (3) letting them listen to the radio over earphones 3 1/2 hours a night, with a choice of two stations, and (4) reducing the work week for those permitted industrial jobs from an eight-hour day six days a week to a 6 1/2-hour day five days a week.

First of the changes, elimination of the silent system, followed the slugging of former Warden James A. Johnston as he walked through the dining room in a 1937 strike.

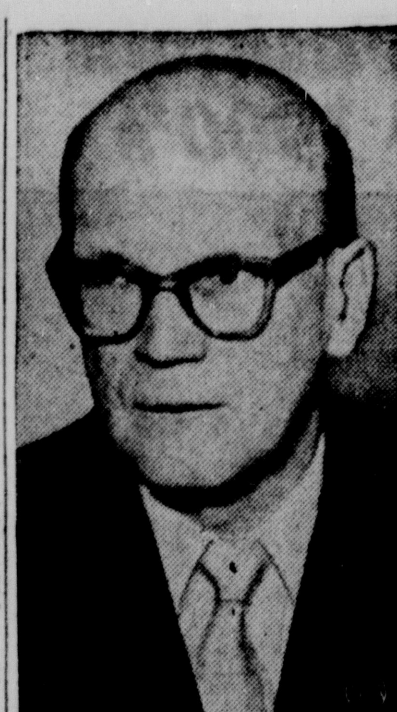

Security changes also followed waves of violence.

Since the three-day Battle of Alcatraz in May 1946, the most violent uprising on the island, mesh screens have protected the catwalks behind which gun guards watch the cell blocks in which inmates are locked at least 14 hours a day.

The battle was touched off when Bernard Paul Coy, a Louisville bank robber, scaled bars to the catwalk and pried them apart with a spreader made of stolen

The group produced a film for television and for youth clubs. The cost of the 30-minute film was underwritten by two oil companies.
The immediate need within the FCA, McClanen says, is to find the means to follow up on the many contacts of other outstanding Christian athletes who are anxious to join in carrying the Christian challenge to youth everywhere.

Sedalia Back in US After Far East Cruise

Buddy Cramer, seaman, USN, of 401 East Howard, returned to San Diego, Calif., March 11 aboard the Pacific Fleet destroyer USS O'Brien which completed a six-month cruise in the Far East.

The destroyer operated as a unit of Task Force 77 and participated in the Formosa Patrol.

lowed out of his cell at night. No one is paroled from Alcatraz.

But they do leave, normally after five years, by transfer to other prisons. This is contrary to the belief that the only way out of Alcatraz is in a coffin.

Alcatraz is a prison for troublemakers, all with long criminal and prison records, who couldn't get along in other federal penitentiaries.

There's been a great deal of talk of abandoning it because of its location far away from the nation's population center and the high cost of operation—$7.50 a day per man.

"We don't know whether we can get rid of Alcatraz, but we would like to," said G. Frederick Mullen, director of information of the Department of Justice.

Madigan added, "The need is still with us for a maximum security prison, as proved by the men we have here. So far as continuing Alcatraz as a prison, that is entirely up to Atty. Gen. Brownell."

Mullen indicated its future would depend on the fate of a bill before Congress to appropriate 10 1/2 million dollars for a maximum security prison to be built somewhere in the Midwest.

Until another such prison is built, Madigan and Mullen agreed, there'll be Alcatraz, with a maximum of security and a minimum of privileges.

Tax Deadlines Are Explained By Official

By Scott Webber
District Manager, Sedalia
Social Security Office

In this concluding article of a series on reporting self-employment net earnings from farming or ranching for social security purposes, I want to stress the due dates for filing tax returns which must be met by self-employed farmers and ranchers in order to comply with the law and to obtain proper social security credit for earnings which apply toward old-age and survivors insurance protection.

If you had net earnings of at least $400 in calendar year 1955, you must file a return, report your net earnings which apply toward social security, and pay the social security tax on those earnings. You are requested to file as soon as possible after Jan. 1, 1956; you should file not later than April 15, 1956.

While the filing of a declaration of estimated income tax is primarily an Internal Revenue Service matter, there is a special regulation in this connection which I want to help bring to the attention of self-employed farmers and ranchers. Although a person self-employed in a profession, trade, or non-farm business may be required to file an estimate of income by April 15 of that year, persons who derive at least two-thirds of their gross income from farming may file their declaration on or before January 15 of the following year. If you are required to file a declaration of your 1955 income and do so on or before Jan. 15, 1956, and pay the estimated tax at that time, your return will not be due until April 15, 1956.

However, if you file your final tax return on or before February 15, 1956, and pay the total tax at that time, it will not be necessary to file a declaration.

In any case, bear this in mind—the completion of Schedule SE (the brief tear-off portion of Schedule F, or Schedule C) and the payment of the social security tax must accompany your income tax return. This is a responsibility required of you under law; by meeting it, moreover, you have the assurance that you are getting full credit for your taxable earnings which are

Every organ and tissue throughout the body is furnished with life or Nerve Energy which flows from the brain, where the life force is generated, out through the spinal cord and nerves the same as electricity flows over wires.

Sedalia High School Class Of 1906 Plans Big Reunion

The class of 1906 of the old Sedalia High School plans a golden anniversary reunion in Sedalia on graduation day, May 24, as part of the Smith-Cotton high school graduation program. Walter H. Bohling, president of the class, has been working on the plans for several months.

Mrs. O. W. Peithman, nee Cora Lamm, now of Knob Noster, secretary, and John T. Ready, now of Kansas City, vice-president of the class, likewise have been compiling information on the class prior to the recent announcement the reunion would be held.

On Dec. 28, 1955, a meeting of 15 members of the class who still reside in Missouri was held, and a decision was reached to try and contact all living members of the class and invite them to a reunion. First letters were written and follow-up letters have likewise been mailed to several who failed to answer the first letter, received.

Superintendent of Schools Heber U. Hunt, and Forrest Drake, Smith-Cotton principal, approved the efforts of the class officers of 1906 and gave assurance of their cooperation by school authorities.

Phil Kidd, president of the First National Bank, Norman, Okla., has been appointed and accepted the responsibility of handling the financial committee on any matters which might arise in connection with the reunion.

In discussing the reunion, Bohling said there are seven members of the class they have no record or correct address of, and anyone who might know of these classmates is requested to contact either him or Mrs. Jenkins. They are Marguerite Butters, Louise Haecker, Minnie Hagberg, Hattie Hammond, Lily Hearst, Ruby Sutton and William Morrison.

Preview of Eisenhower's New White House Pattern If American Voters Re-Elect Him

IF IKE IS RE-ELECTED, there'll be less routine in the White House, where he's shown (left) signing a bill while appointment secretary Bernard Shanley watches, more trips in his private plane to Gettysburg (right) where he can still carry on work.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — While recovering from his illness President Eisenhower uncovered a vital secret about life in the White House.

He learned how to become the complete boss of it.

And Ike, in full charge of Ike's activities, will set the pattern of activity at the executive mansion for the next four years if the American voters renew his lease.

The way Ike has managed to handle the presidency for the past several weeks, since being declared fit for a full schedule of duties, is the clue to what will come.

You can't see the President unless you're one of his most intimate friends and closest advisers. His able appointment secretary, Bernard Shanley, warns the few who do get on the visitors' list that the appointment could be cancelled at a moment's notice.

Even Defense Secretary Charles Wilson has been warned not to count on weekly meetings with Ike, which he always has scheduled. Wilson checks the day before, and again the morning of the appointment.

The Prime Minister of England, Sir Anthony Eden, was told on his recent visit that meetings with the President were subject to last minute change.

Ike is never frivolous about changing schedules or deciding to take a rest. It's just that the White House staff is prepared to accede promptly to Ike's slightest request.

Vice President Nixon and Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams are on constant alert to substitute for the President at ceremonials. However, despite this apparent walling-in of the President, the magic of his personality continues to get across to the American public through his statements, pictures and TV appearances.

Secret Service men have adapted to the new Ike way of life. They keep bags packed for the sudden trips to Gettysburg. There might be as little as a two-hour notice of a jaunt to the farm. Several of the two-engine, four-passenger planes which Ike uses for trips to Gettysburg are kept in readiness at nearby Bolling Field 24 hours a day.

Ike's most dramatic show of being free from the routine fetters of the presidency was the recent surprise announcement of his visit to Key West, Fla. The base commander at Key West had 24 hours in which to prepare quarters for the Commander-in-Chief.

The next four years, if Ike is elected, should see the Eisenhower family spending more and more time at their farm. And extended vacations to pleasant parts of the U.S. will be planned frequently.

Even before Ike's illness the First Family showed no great interest in the stiffly formal White House social season which included many huge, long, dull receptions. It's not likely that a full social season ever will be revived by the Eisenhower.

Mamie has made a wonderful recovery herself from the poor health she was suffering just before her husband's attack. But she has become extremely interested in the Gettysburg farm and will be spending an increasing share of her time there.

Ike's official work load has already been cut to the bone. Several bills have been introduced to make further slashes in the presidential work load.

The other day an admiral brought in a sheaf of routine personnel transfers for Ike's signature. Shanley told the admiral that such a procedure was no longer necessary.

The White House rejected a proposal of former President Herbert Hoover to create a new office of "assistant president" to take over many duties. Ike and his assistants apparently believe that the work load he can handle for the next four years can be set up without this device.

A joint resolution for a 10-man group to study the problems which arise when a president is unable to perform his official duties has been passed by the Senate and is now being studied by the House.

Electronics Machines Make Books Available for Blind

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (P) — Add electronics to literature and you make reading available to more blind persons.

Such research is now being undertaken by the American Printing House for the Blind, largest of the four non-profit-making organizations of its kind in the United States.

The research, initiated by the Library of Congress, centers around a machine—only one of its kind in the world.

The machine will be used in production of books and magazines in Braille, a code system of raised dots read by passing the fingers over them.

Here's what happens:

The Library of Congress and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare send the printing house lists of books wanted for schools and libraries for the blind.

The new machine makes a pilot (or proof) copy of the book, and, if desired, the pilot copy can be used to operate several machines turning out pages of the same book in one operation.

The old method, known as stereotyping, is slower.

Each page of a desired book is slowly punched into Braille symbols on a metal plate. The metal plates then are pressed against sheets of paper to impress them with Braille. The individual sheets are assembled to make up a book.

The control center can operate several of the machines that punch the Braille symbols on the metal plates at one time, speeding up the process of putting out books.

Officials of the firm say the machine has another valuable function—that of cutting down on errors.

Under the old system, officials say, much of the cost of making Braille books came from the need to check carefully each metal plate and finished page for mistakes in spelling or grammar.

With the new equipment, they say, errors are virtually eliminated. Two people work on the same book independently and the machine compares their work electronically.

If it finds a difference in the two versions of the same book, it indicates an error on a control panel and the error can be fixed in a matter of seconds.

The printing house now puts out about 1,500 school books and other books and magazines every week under appropriations from the Library of Congress and the Health, Education and Welfare Department.

Of these appropriations, about $120,000 a year goes into school books and another $60,000 goes for best-sellers and the classics.

Officials hope that, by cutting costs, they will be able to expand their output of books—and perhaps give a wider variety of reading material.

To date, they've published everything from complete Braille Bibles to such books as "Robinson Crusoe," "The Adventures of Huc-

American Youth Camp

Missouri is entitled to send two delegates, a boy and a girl to the American Youth Foundation Camp at Miniwanna near Shelby, Mich. The girls' camp is held the first two weeks in August, July 30-August 12; the boys' camp the last two weeks, Aug. 13-26.

The delegates must be 16 years of age or older. Camp fees are provided for the two Missouri delegates. Selections are made on the basis of the 4-H record plus the spiritual development of the individual.

These selections are made by the state office on April 1 so if any eligible 4-H'er is interested they should contact this office right away so that you can fill out an application blank. This camp really offers some fine opportunities and I hope that several older members will try to take advantage of it.

County Play Festival

I was greatly pleased with the quality of the plays and special numbers presented by the 4-H clubs at recent county play festival. What impressed me more though was the grace with which the 4-H members received their ratings. Too often competitive affairs are marred by the way participants receive their ratings. I hope that I never have occasion to see 4-H members repute the rating that has been given them. To paraphrase an old statement "I'd rather see a blue ribbon child with a red ribbon award than a red ribbon child with a blue ribbon award."

My special thanks for the fine help given by the various 4-H members who ushered at the play festival, it is this kind of special help that helps to make an event move along smoothly.

Project Meetings

From the reports that reach my desk I sense that the project completion rate stands a good chance of climbing this year. I hear reports that in some cases the project requirements are almost complete. I hope that these members and their leader do not stop when they reach this point but instead find comparable problems and include them or polish up that demonstration and judging technique. It is this extra activity that adds so much for the member. It is also this activity over and beyond the project requirement that helps bring a sense of satisfaction to the leaders for the wonderful job they are doing.

Standard Report Forms

The time has come when 4-H'ers should be gathering together all the loose ends of their 4-H club work and starting to shape together a resume of their accomplishments so they can set them down to words on the Standard Report Form. To date there have only been 15 report blanks called for at the office. This will by no means even start to cover the number of county medals that are available. As I have mentioned before, oft times we need to "toot our own horn" and these reports really give 4-H some stories of accomplishments that can be "tooted." I hope that all eligible members will participate in the National Awards Contest.

New Tracks Into the North Rail Building Boom Pushes

BEFORE TRACKS ARE LAID, tractor sled trains bring in supplies for mines and railroad builders in Canada's north.

AFTER THE STEEL IS DOWN, trains move in to haul out the rich ore. Rails now reach areas once accessible only by air.

By JAMES MONTAGNES
NEA Special Correspondent

TORONTO (NEA)—The old-fashioned railroad is highballing along into the wilderness in a modern construction boom in Canada these days.

Some 1,600 miles of new track have been built or are planned as the steel rails reach into areas until now accessible only by air. The aerial invasion turned up rich deposits of copper, iron, uranium, zinc, gold and silver; the new rail lines will bring in machinery and supplies for the new mines—and bring out the ore.

Even Eskimos may benefit from the boom. The government is considering plans for a 50 million dollar railroad to the shores of Great Slave Lake in the Canadian Northwest, where uranium and zinc are being mined 1,200 miles north of the U.S. border.

Right now tracks are being pushed 300 miles into the copper-rich wilds of Chibougamau in northern Quebec. Along the right of way, wives of construction workers hang out the family wash where Indian trappers were the only inhabitants a few years ago.

Further east, on a 30-mile railroad completed a little more than a year ago, trains are hauling iron ore from uninhabited Labrador to a new seaport at Seven Islands on the St. Lawrence, where ships load the ore for Canadian and U.S. steel mills.

In northern Ontario last summer, both the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific lines completed trackage into Montevideo. The mines won't start producing until next year, but the diesel locomotives are now hauling in the equipment to build the mill and refinery and a new town. In northern Manitoba, a 144-mile railroad has replaced a tractor sled train that used to bring the nickel ore from Lynn Lake. The railroad also carries fish from the ice-cold northern lakes.

The huge aluminum refinery at Kitimat, where as recently as 1950 there was only a small Indian village, is now connected by railroad with Vancouver, 400 miles south. Eventually the railroad at Kitimat will be a city of 50,000.

Besides the Great Slave Lake railroad plan, another line is being surveyed to link the Alaska Highway with Vancouver and Prince Rupert.

Pushing these new tracks into the north is no job for the traditional gandy dancer—the brawny laborer who hammered home the spikes. After bulldozers clear the forest, mechanized tie and track-laying equipment moves in. Last is spread by machine. Where winter runs from September to May, railroad building can't wait for the men with sledgehammers.

Experts estimate that about 30 per cent of U.S. farms are part-time or residential farms.

Sen. Long Claims High Court Assumes Power Not Intended For It

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP)—Sen. Russell Long (D-La.) says the U.S. Supreme Court has taken on powers not intended for it.

The high tribunal, Long told an organization of oilmen Friday, was set up to interpret the law, but instead the justices sometimes interpret the law to mean just the opposite from what the lawmakers intended.

Long said he planned to sponsor a constitutional amendment to limit the length of Supreme Court appointments to 12 years.

After 12 years, a justice would have to be reappointed by the President and approved again by the Senate.

Long said every second appointment to the Supreme Court should have at least six years experience on the bench of a court of record.

The present nine justices have a total of eight years of judicial experience among them, he said. One has had six years experience and another has two years as a justice in a police court.

Building Skeleton Comes Crashing Down

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—"There she goes," cried a worker and down it came—500 tons of structural steel as workmen jumped clear.

The complex steel skeleton was part of a $1,600,000 transit shed being erected on Pier C in the harbor. Some of the 37 workers jumped from levels as high as 18 feet but none was seriously injured.

Damage to the 320-foot section was estimated at $250,000 by a company spokesman.

Prosecuting Attorney Is Quitting Politics; Gets No Cooperation

SHAWNEE, Okla. (AP)—Pottawatomie County Atty. Lloyd Henry, 30, says he's quitting politics in disgust.

"I'll never run for another public office," he said. "It's no place for a man with idiosyncrasies. I've learned the hard way."

Henry's term expires this year. He said for a year and a half he has attempted to close notorious gambling clubs but that law enforcement agencies had shown little interest in closing it down.

"I have received no support from public officials or citizens," he said.

Fort For Children

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP)—Washington is considering acquisition of a fort for a state institution for retarded children.

Fort Worden, once guarded the entrance to Puget Sound and in more recent years had been used for amphibious training. The Army abandoned it as an outmoded installation. State officials think it could be converted into a 1,000-bed institution for children as 4½ million dollars less than the cost of a new one.

He was reported to have died of a heart attack.

DO YOU WANT TO BREAK THE LAXATIVE DRUG HABIT?

MILLIONS HAVE—WHY NOT YOU?

For constipation due to insufficient bulk

Try All-Bran and Milk
nature's great food combination

Delicious, appetizing—solid nutritional benefits

Is the laxative drug habit becoming an increasingly annoying and unpleasant problem with you? Then here is welcome news:

Millions of grown men and women like yourself have found the way to get at this common cause of constipation (lack of bulk in the diet). They have simply changed to an appetizing and nourishing breakfast serving of Kellogg's All-Bran with milk.

How is it that Kellogg's All-Bran can succeed in so many cases where drug and chemical laxatives fail? For this one reason. Such preparations usually contain no bulk (the gentle roughage that keeps us regular), because these laxative drugs are intended only for temporary relief.

All-Bran, on the other hand, provides all the good food bulk you need daily for regularity. A serving a day at breakfast (or before bed at night) has helped millions enjoy gentle, natural elimination without harsh purging or disagreeable after-effects.

The Flavor Best Liked by Millions. W. K. Kellogg originated All-Bran more than 40 years ago. Beginning with whole bran he improved its flavor and eating qualities without taking away any of the effectiveness of the natural laxative bulk already in it. This is why All-Bran has, for many years, been the most widely accepted and used of all bran cereals. On taste alone, many people prefer All-Bran to any other cereal. It is the original ready-to-eat bran.

Kellogg's All-Bran is good wholesome food. Indeed, a daily serving with milk supplies not only bulk, but solid nutritional benefits. These include vitamins, minerals and high-quality protein.

So why suffer from constipation due to lack of bulk? Put your trust in nature and give All-Bran a try. Eat a half a cup of All-Bran with milk every day for 10 days. Get back on schedule this safe, gentle, inexpensive way.

If you are not completely satisfied with All-Bran in every way, simply return the empty carton and get twice what you paid. That's a promise from Kellogg's of Battle Creek, Michigan.

Sedalia Girls Conclude Special Activities for Girl Scout Week

COMMUNITY SERVICE—Little first grade Brownies who are in the second grade at school are doing a big job in their community. These Brownies of Troop 29, Sacred Heart School, of which Mrs. Roger Fuller and Mrs. A. K. Downs are co-leaders, are stuffing the Easter seals in envelopes for the Pettis County Crippled Children's Society. This community service, which the youngsters love doing, has meant a great deal to the society in getting ready for the Easter Seal Campaign which is on now.

A DOUBLE CELEBRATION—Citizenship Day and the observance of the birthday anniversary of Juliette Low was held on the same day when Girl Scouts of Troop No. 4, sixth graders at Broadway School, met for a party. Mrs. Dan Duly and Mrs. Elmo Harlan are co-leaders and shown in the picture with Mrs. Duly is Mrs. Sterling Wheeler, committee mother. The girls had a talk on citizenship followed by the horseshow ceremony and the lighting of the candles on the cake. The girls are shown around the lighted cake.

INTERNATIONAL FRIENDSHIP—This is an important part of Girl Scout work and Troop 25, of which Mrs. S. M. Knapp and Mrs. Gene Herrick are leaders, had an opportunity to learn a great deal about the Japanese and, through a deeper understanding, become closer to that country. A gathering at the home of Mrs. Knapp, 1812 South Barrett, was a long to be remembered afternoon for the girls of the troop. Two Japanese women brought dolls to the meeting and showed the different hair dresses worn by Japanese women and what occasion each was worn for. Also, the women taught the girls a Japanese game. Thinks Scientific Training Belongs On the Local Level

WASHINGTON (AP)—The director of the National Science Foundation (NSF) said Saturday the need for more scientists is a national concern, but their training should remain at the local level. Alan T. Waterman noted in a speech prepared for the convention of the National Science

Teachers Assn. (NSTA) that the school teacher — especially the science teacher — "has almost over night become the center of attention and concern."

"One does not have to look far for the cause," he said. "After years in which the United States has complacently led the field in technological achievement, we have suddenly awakened to the fact that other nations, too, are forging ahead and we can no longer take our lead for granted."

Waterman did not single out any other nation. Russia is most generally mentioned in this connection.

There is enough ice on Greenland to give every person on earth a two-ton chunk every minute for a year, says the National Geographic Society.

Car Is Dragged Mile After Hitting Train; Occupants Are Killed

NATIONAL CITY, Ill., (AP)—An auto was dragged about one mile after wedging between two cars of a passing freight train Saturday, killing all three occupants.

The victims were identified as Jesse Hampton, 25, Robert Sparks, 24, and his 22-year-old brother, Charles Sparks, all St. Louis Negroes.

National City officers said the car, apparently traveling at a high rate of speed, wedged itself between the 13th and 14th cars of a terminal railroad freight train at an unprotected crossing here.

Parts of the car were strewn along the roadbed. The bodies were mangled. One fell out of the car about eight blocks from the scene and the other two some 300 feet further down the roadbed.

About 10 in every 100 American women over 65 years old have jobs.

There are about 170,000 black bears in the United States.

Efforts Made To Retain BJ Chiefs Team

Contact Merchants For Underwriting Of Team For '56

Efforts to keep the Sedalia Chiefs Ban Johnson team in action are being made by Walter Jessee and R. B. Duncan. Local merchants have been contacted and there are possibilities that four or more local business firms will underwrite the team for this year.

Officers for the Central Missouri Ban Johnson League are Vic Meiner, Brookfield, president; James Hampton, vice-president; Moberly; Van Reed, treasurer; Marshall; Charles Persinger, secretary, Booneville; and Stan Isle, publicity director, Moberly.

The league officials are working hard to keep the circuit going and to build to an eight team league. Meetings have been held the past few weeks in Columbia and Jefferson City and another on April 15, to windup the arrangements for the season play.

Jessee, who for the past number of years has been interested in the local B. J. team and who has served as Vice-President of the League for many years, stated he wanted to see Sedalia continue active. "We have too many boys of good baseball caliber here to let it drop. They have a team to play on so they at least will get a chance to go forward in the sport."

"Jerry Lumpe, of Warsaw, who played with the Chiefs back in 1950, is an example of what B. J. ball can do for a boy. He is moving in at the top with the Yankees. There are more boys around here who might likewise establish themselves in professional baseball in later years," Jessee said.

Among the local boys who are expected back this season are Bobby Case, Larry Mines, Don Barbour, Elroy Burton, Jim Fall, Clyde Kubli, Kenneth Buhlig, John Higgins. Several boys who graduated out of Babe Ruth are expected to be out for the tryout and no doubt will make places on the squad.

Many of the boys who were in the Babe Ruth league last season and because of age are no longer eligible, are excellent material for Ban Johnson. Jessee commented about the baseball program in Sedalia.

Anyone interested in any information regarding sponsorship or playing with the team is requested to contact either Jessee or Duncan.

Sports Scraps

By D. KELLY SCRUTON

THE 1955-56 basketball season has come to a close and Smith-Cotton High School provided one of the best teams in recent years with an overall record of 26 victories and five losses. The record includes all tournaments.

One thing for certain the Tigers lost in the State Tournament at St. Louis to one of the best teams, Cleveland of St. Louis provided the opposition for the Tigers which was supreme and with their All-State six foot eight George Burkel who scored 34 points they had it.

But the St. Louis fans also saw another All-State six-foot three and a quarter inch Charles "Van" Van Dyne in action and were greatly impressed with his playing against the towering Burkel.

They were two great boys on the court together, two great high school sportsmen, and their playing and acts on the court were such that both won favor among the sportswriters, sportscasters and others.

I say All-State basketball stars without reservations. Both have been nominated for the honors, and from what I saw in the game both are bound to be final selections. They will deserve them and they earned them all season and in that game Wednesday night.

I saw Maplewood play against Lees Summit and it is a great team and their victories over St. Charles Thursday night and that over Cleveland Friday night speak for themselves. Maplewood beat a powerful team in the semi-finals, in fact only by a two-point margin, something like Smith-Cotton defeated a majority of their opponents all year long by spreads of from one to five points.

Beaumont of St. Louis moved into the finals beating North Kansas City 60-41. Webster Groves by 67-38 and then St. Joseph Christian Brothers 52-45. Maplewood took the trip out beating Lees Summit 52-43. St. Charles 72-62, then Cleveland 43-41.

Cleveland, who moved out, defeating the Tigers 70-54, and Mercy of St. Louis 60-43. They play St. Joseph in the third place game. St. Joe defeated Sikeston 55-49 and West Plains 56-45.

JERRY Lumpe, the Warsaw youth who played American Legion baseball down there on the banks of the Lake of the Ozarks and then moved into Ban Johnson play with the Sedalia Chiefs a few years back, has gained prominence in the eyes of Tom Meany writing a special feature for Collier's Magazine. Meany picked Lumpe to be American League rookie of the year in his story released in the March 30, magazine.

Lumpe, property of the New York Yankees, was listed among six of his infielder picks, as "The rookies likely to stick."

He quotes in his article in reference to the shortstop position on the Yankees. He says, "Shortstop will be the main problem as, indeed, it was last season. The thirty-seven year-old Phil Rizzuto (.259) can't do the job daily, although he still is brilliant after being rested. Bill Hunter (.227) is reported recovered from his broken leg and heads the pack scrambling for Phil's job. Billy Martin (.300), Jerry Coleman (.229), Gil McDougald (.285) and a rookie team from Birmingham, Jerry Lumpe (.301), also figure in Stengel's private game of musical chairs."

Jerry's followers back here in Warsaw and Sedalia are hoping he hits the right notes for Stengel and gets to sit in that musical chair. He is a great ball player, and his playing shown on the local diamonds many many times has not deteriorated one bit. He has improved steadily and will continue to do so. We know Jerry, and Casey won't be making any mistake in moving him on up.

Special Golf Tourney Bids—Venturi, Bisplinghoff, Haas Get Invitations To Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 17 (AP)—Ken Venturi of San Francisco and Don Bisplinghoff of Orlando, Fla., a pair of brilliant young amateur golfers, and veteran pro Fred Haas

Jr., today received special invitations to the 1956 Masters tournament, April 5-8.

Venturi, who had to take time out from golf for military service just as he was reaching the peak, was singularly honored as the first recipient of an invitation by a vote of the former Masters champions.

A new regulation this year governing this exclusive tournament permits the former Masters winners to name one player, either amateur or pro, who does not qualify under the other regulations.

The 12 masters, all professionals, passed up a lot of good young pros in favor of Venturi.

Bisplinghoff was selected by a similar vote of former U. S. amateur champions and Haas was the pro picked by a ballot of former open champions.

Two more additions to the original list of 109 invitations are to be made later.

THAT'S A BASKETBALL—Coach Palmer Nichols pointing to the ball humorously explains to Marvin (20) and Mark (33) Mettler foot five (and still growing) twins that "That's a basketball." Opponents of theirs the past season are well acquainted with the fact the explanation was not necessary. They were Stars of Sedalia's Sacred Heart Gremlins. (Staff Photo).

Gremlins Will Have Star Cagers, Mettler Twins, Back

By D. Kelly Scruton
Democrat-Capital Sports Editor

Sacred Heart High School will have both Marvin and Mark Mettler back with their Gremlin basketball team for the season of 1955-56. They completed this season with exceptionally good records as a twin-brother combination under the tutelage of Coach Palmer Nichols who has been the coach of the Gremlins for the past seven seasons.

It was back when they were in the third grade of school when they had a basketball hoop put up in the backyard of their parents home. Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Mettler, 1311 South Monticau. It was regulation height but they began their daily practice of shooting there. They switched about to neighborhood boy friends who also had basketball baskets and played with them.

Both were playing on the Gremlin's grade school team at an early age and they were the spark-plug combination which helped the Eighth Graders win the Pettis-Benton County Athletic Association championship in the season of 1951-52.

Going into high school they kept the watchful eyes of Nichols on them and have advanced and gone forward to the point where they are one of the best known brother teams in high school basketball, especially in the twin brother class.

Since Nichols has coached the Gremlins they have a record of 100 wins and 90 losses. Nichols coaches parttime, employed at the Missouri Pacific shops, he spends his evenings during the fall and winter coaching basketball.

Mark the past season scored 631 points for a 22 point average while brother Marvin shot in 430 points for a 15 point average. Mark was the individual high scorer for the Gremlins with 35 points made against Warsaw while Marvin was crowded.

Baylor Is Southwest Track Meet Champion

FORT WORTH, Tex., March 17 (AP)—Baylor won an upset championship on a foul today and Eddie Southern and Bobby Morrow, two of Texas' greatest track men, led the mightiest assault on the records in the history of the Southwestern Recreation Meet.

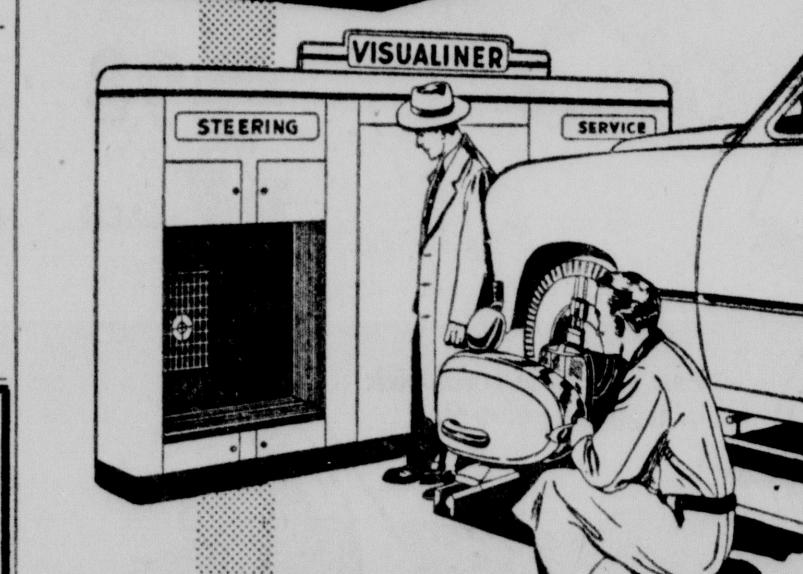

Oklahoma A&M was disqualified after winning the mile relay and Baylor was moved up to first place. Thus the Golden Bears captured the university division title with 42 points.

Nashua Suffers Upset By Sailor In $112,900 Race

MIAMI, Fla., March 17 (AP)—Nashua, whose daddy came from Ireland, went down to the most crushing defeat of his brilliant career today in the $112,900 Gulfstream Park handicap, a mile and one quarter grind won by Brookmeade Stable's Sailor.

A record crowd of 32,532 made Nashua the Leslie Combs II star, the favorite at 3-5 in the compact field of seven but the top impost of 129 pounds apparently was too much for the big bay colt, who never threatened the leaders and finished a badly-beaten fifth.

Sailor, ridden by Willie Hartack, who was leading jockey with 417 winners last year, wrestled the lead from Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Find as they passed the stands the first time and never lost it.

Meilleux, winner of the Appleton handicap last Saturday, was a surprising second in a race full of surprises. Find finished third and Wide Margin ran fourth.

Nashua, shooting for the world's money-winning record held by Citation at $1,085,760, spotted his seven opponents from four to 19 pounds. His fifth place finish was worth $2,500 and brought his total winnings to $1,040,515.

Following Nashua home was Maine Chance Farm's Jet Action and Prince Noor.

Pittsburg State Third In NAIA Cage Tourney

KANSAS CITY, March 17 (AP)—Pittsburg (Kan) State jumped to an early lead and never was threatened seriously as it downed Wheaton (Ill.) College 77-70 to take third place in the National Intercollegiate (NAIA) tournament tonight before 7,000 persons.

Maxwell Holds 1-Stroke Lead In Tourney

Has 204 Total For 3 Rounds; Hebert In Second With 205

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 17 (AP)—Billy Maxwell held doggedly to the lead in the St. Petersburg Open golf tournament today but Lionel Hebert led a task force of par busters who pulled dangerously close to the young Texan.

Maxwell, a freckled face 26-year-old from Odessa, scrambled to a 36-35-71 for a total of 204 and a one stroke lead after three rounds in this $12,500 tourney.

Hebert, the first round leader, picked up two strokes with his 33-36-69 and nailed down second place at 205.

Seven others in the field were within five strokes of the leader with 18 holes to go on this 6,489-yard lakewood course where par is 36-36-72.

Mike Fetchick of Mahopac, N.Y., fired a 68 and Ernie Vossler of Fort Worth, Texas, a 69 to pull into a tie for third at 206.

Defending champion Cary Middlecoff of Dallas, helped along by an eagle three on No. 16, stroked out a "very, very pleasing" 66 and jumped back in the contingent at 207. Ted Kroll of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., who shot a 71 also had 207.

Paul O'Leary of Bismarck, N.D., fired a 68 for 208. Ed Furgol, 1954 National Open champion, had a 68 for 209, a spot he shared with Bill Casper Jr., of Chula Vista, Calif., who had a 71.

Middlecoff was two strokes better off than when he was off a year ago, when he started the final round five strokes behind pacesetter Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla., and closed with a 67 to grab top money. Jay, Lionel's older brother, slipped to a 73 today and 210.

Other well known golfers were scattered back. Jimmy Demaret of Kiamnesia Lake, N. Y., who has won this tournament twice, had 73-211. Jack Fleck of Davenport, Iowa, the 1955 open winner, had 71-213. Jack Burke Jr., another two time winner here, from Kiamnesia Lake, and Bo Winingor of Oklahoma City, both had 72-214.

surged to a 10-0 lead and held the third-seeded Illinois crew scoreless until Don Hudgens finally broke the ice with a tip-in after Holding 12-point leads four different times in the first half, Pittsburg had a 45-33 half-time advantage with Cain scoring 22 in the first half.

On Golf

By FRANKIE REYNOLDS

As soon as the erratic weatherman decides to start dishing out some spring weather, golf season should be getting underway in a big way in Sedalia and area. The early golfing activity, inhibited the past week by snow and cold, should resume now with an outlook for warmer temperatures.

Along with the appropriate weather the Smith-Cotton Tiger golf team will begin practice soon with anticipation of another perfect year.

The entire 1955 team, winner of the Central Missouri Conference championship last year, is returning this spring, with veteran Gilbert "Gib" Roberts again heading the list of Smith-Cotton swingers. Roberts led the Tigers through the season undefeated last year.

Returning lettermen include: Roberts, Victor "Vic" Van Dyne, Ronald Turner and Clayton Craig.

The Tigers are fortunate in having another fine golfer, Leslie Griffin, joining the team this year. Griffin, who was on the S-C track squad last year, competed in the Missouri State Amateur golf tournament last summer and is expected to help make the defending CMC golf champs an even stronger foursome for the approaching season.

Looking to the national scene, Gene Littler, the youthful shot-maker representing the Thunderbird Country Club of Palm Springs, Calif., has been making his bid on the winter professional circuit a successful one. Littler is presently running near the top of the list in money winnings on the winter tour and is certain to be a prime threat on the summer tournament schedule.

The 24-year-old swinger, who dominated amateur golf before deciding to turn professional in 1954, now appears headed for the top in the pro standings. Finishing with an impressive record last year and holding a top position in winter competition, there should be nothing stopping him in his climb.

Last week I predicted Ben Hogan would seriously compete in the U.S. Open tournament again this season, despite the fact he announced last year that he was retiring from "serious" competitive golf and implied he would not play in the National Open again.

Well, coincidentally, a report came from Florida this past Friday that Hogan is on his way back. The account has it that Ben is practicing daily and is headed toward the Masters tourney at Augusta, Ga., April 5-8.

The Masters event is ranked among the top four tournaments of the year, including the Open, P.G.A. and World tourneys.

Thus, his contention in the Open rises as a certainty, after all, this year.

Santee Resumes Fight Against AAU Monday

NEW YORK, March 17 (AP)—When Wes Santee resumes his fight in State Supreme Court Monday against lifetime suspension, he will try to prove that instead of making money on expenses—as charged—he was out of pocket.

The ace miler contends that it cost him about $5,000 to run as an amateur and represent Uncle Sam in international events, such as the Olympic games.

This is not apt to be the crucial point in the battle between the controversial Kansas cowboy and the Amateur Athletic Union but it may open some interesting doors.

Tribe Manager Offers $100 To Player Fund For Speedier Games

NEW YORK, March 17 (AP)—Hank Greenberg, general manager of the Cleveland Indians, has conceived an idea he hopes will speed up the Indians' ball games this season. He has promised $100 to his team's players' fund for each game Cleveland wins in two hours or less during the regular campaign.

An Associated Press survey last year showed that big league ball games in 1955 took an average of 2 hours 39 minutes, compared with 2 hours, 20 minutes in 1940 and one hour, 59 minutes in 1930.

Cadillac

Light Work for Lovely Hands!

It's a pretty tight spot—no question about that!

But it's no work for this lovely lady. For she's at the wheel of a 1956 Cadillac—and here is the world's gentlest resting place for feminine hands.

In fact, even the most difficult of driving maneuvers seldom require anything beyond the merest gesture of a hand on the wheel... and the lightest touch of a toe on the accelerator.

And not only is she always at her ease—but at her loveliest as well.

Seldom, indeed, is a woman seen under more flattering circumstances than she is in the "car of cars"—calm, serene and rested... and surrounded by Cadillac's great luxury and beauty.

And how proud and happy she is! For imagine, if you can, the priceless joy of owning and driving a motor car recognized everywhere as the "Standard of the World!"

To any lady reading this advertisement, we offer this simple suggestion. Come in soon... and see for yourself.

And to any gentleman who might be listening in—well, perhaps there is a lady whom you would like to see always at her ease—and at her loveliest—and at her proudest.

The magic formula is waiting for you in our showroom—and we'll be delighted to assist in the transformation at any time.

P.S.: We have some special news about cost and delivery that you will find difficult to resist. Better come in while the facts are so favorable.

Agricultural Expert Speaks To Kiwanians

C. E. Klingner, agricultural economist of the University of Missouri, Columbia, was the speaker Thursday at the noon meeting of Kiwanis held at the Bothwell Hotel, at which time he discussed "The Agricultural Economic Outlook." Klingner was optimistic in his outlook for agriculture although he did not see any major adjusting until 1957. Production, he said, must be adjusted to the demand which is ever changing. Consumption of such products as wheat and cotton, he pointed out, has declined necessitating adjustment in production and due to the increased demand in dairy and poultry these two phases of agriculture are adjusting themselves. However, he said, with a two-year supply of wheat on hand and a one-year supply of raw cotton, those two particular products are naturally off.

The speaker also talked on foreign exports and other economic farm products and stated that the thing that aggravated cattle and hog raisers is the large supply of pork and beef both in the same year.

Klingner feels that changing in production from a product where there is a surplus to one that is more in demand, people leaving the farm for the city and the increasing of the population will bring a change for the better in agriculture. Changes coming about indicate to him, he said, improvement as far as future farming is concerned.

The speaker was introduced by Herman Pack, chairman of the agriculture and conservation committee. Program chairman was Philip McLaughlin.

The meeting was presided over by Jack Shoemaker, president, with invocation by Abe Rosenthal. Rosenthal also led the group singing, with Miss Lillian Fox at the piano, and dedicated the song: "I Want A Girl" to Robert Hausam, who passed out cigars in honor of his new son, David Charles.

Guests introduced were L. Walker, Kansas City, guest of Bill Dugan; Bob Larm of Kansas City, guest of Myron Lindquist; Merle Vaughan, Pettis County Agent, W. C. Corlew, Smithton, Carl Raines, Nelson; T. J. Ream, Hughesville and B. C. Clyacomb, Hughesville, Pettis County farmers, all guests of Herman Pack, and from the Whiteman Air Force Base, Maj. Patton, base comptroller and Lt. John J. McCordle, in charge of the dependents assistance program.

The Kiwanis Club was host to the outstanding airman and non-commissioned officers during the period of Jan. 1 to Jan. 31 and certificates honoring the Airmen for the fine job they have been doing were presented by Jack Crawford, past president. Those attending the luncheon meeting and receiving the certificates were A-3c Donald L. Beal, A-1c Samuel G. Davidson, A-1c Ray H. Raymond, T-Sgt. Arden D. Olsen, A-2c Elmer D. Poteet, A-1c Marvin E. Mungle, A-2c John J. Muro and A-2c Delmar M. Ridge.

The Kiwanian of the Week, Charles L. Hanley, was recognized. He is the treasurer of the club and in 1937 served as its president.

The club expressed appreciation to The Sedalia Democrat and to Miss Mary Ellen Merrill of the Acme Printing Co. for the assistance in printing the Sedalia Kiwanis Club 1956 directory.

An announcement on Pancake Day, which will be April 7, was made by William Ward, committee chairman, who stated tickets would be mailed this week to members.

An announcement was also made that a group would visit the Fulton Kiwanis Club on March 20, at which time the Kiwanis International president J. A. Raney, will

Ruth Millet Says— Full-Time Housewife's Role Should Not Be Underrated

When a wife considers going to work to supplement her husband's income so the family can "live better," she often doesn't look beyond the size of the pay check she can earn.

That is a round figure she can see—so much per week or so much per month.

What a wife is able to contribute to the family's way of living simply by staying at home and doing a good job of homemaking isn't quite as easy to add up.

The small amounts a full-time housewife can save by careful management add up to big totals, but women rarely bother to add them up.

Nor do they stop to think that a man with a wife making a career of homemaking may advance faster in his career than a man whose wife is so busy helping to supplement his pay check she hasn't time to supplement his own efforts in his struggle for success.

A home economist recently made a statement that all wives would do well to mull over. Ilse H. Wolf, head of the home economics department of Oklahoma A&M College maintains that the financial welfare of the individual and the family is just about as dependent on the homemaker's ability to run things as it is on the size of the family pay check.

To explain that statement she points out that "The majority of families have changed from making a living to buying a living."

Lincoln, was dismissed March 9 from Wetzel Hospital, Clinton, where she had received medical treatment.

As a result, the homemaker has become the purchasing agent for the home and family. . . . She determines to a significant degree the financial condition, not only of herself and her family, but also of the national economy.

That means that a housewife's ability to spend wisely may be more important to her family than her ability to earn.

And there is no question but that a full-time housewife can make money go further and create a comfortable home on less money than a working wife who has to manage a home any way she can.

Benz, Knob Noster, and A-2c Charles Curtis Dizney, Whiteman AFB, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Dizney, Dayton, Ohio, were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony at three o'clock the afternoon of March 4 at the Warrensburg Baptist Church with the Rev. Ervin E. Benz, brother of the bride, pastor of the Green Ridge Baptist Church, officiating. Bouquets of white roses and white snapdragons and jade greenery decorated the church with two seven-branch candelabra on either side of the altar.

Roger Stewart, Warrensburg, played a selection of wedding music on the organ preceding the ceremony, and played the traditional wedding marches. Mrs. Ervin E. Benz, Green Ridge, sister-in-law of the bride, sang "Always" and "I Love You Truly" before the ceremony. After the wedding vows were exchanged and the bride and bridegroom had knelt on a white satin pillow, she sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The groomsmen, Dale Brown, Warrensburg, and A-2c Leon Pomeroy, Whiteman AFB, lighted the candles and served as ushers. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a sweeping floor length gown of carnation white Chantilly lace over white satin. A shrug basque bodice was designed with long fitted sleeves tapering to a point over the hands and a low neckline edged with sequins and seed pearls.

The bouffant skirt was of nylon net fashioned with lace panels. She carried a white orchid fastened to a white Bible, which was a gift of the bridegroom. A double fingertip veil of illusion fell from a tiara of Chantilly lace, sprinkled with sequins and seed pearls and was heart shaped. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls.

Miss Bonnie Lazenby, Green Ridge, served as maid of honor. She wore a ballerina length gown of turquoise net with lace jacket and carried a colonial nosegay of turquoise and white carnations. She wore a headdress of pink roses.

Miss Janet Cameron, Warrensburg, and Miss Ann Emig, Knob Noster, wearing ballerina length gowns of pink net with net stoles, served as bridesmaids. They carried identical colonial nosegays of pink carnations and wore a band of turquoise and pink roses. A-2c John Thompson, Whiteman AFB, served as best man.

Groomsmen were Dale Brown and A-2c Leon Pomeroy. Nancy Jo Morgenstern, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morgenstern, Kansas City, cousin of the bride, was flower girl and wore a pink organdy gown and a white basket with pink rose petals. Albert Benz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hillard Benz, Kansas City, cousin of the bride, was ringbearer.

The mother of the bride wore a navy two-piece dress with navy and white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

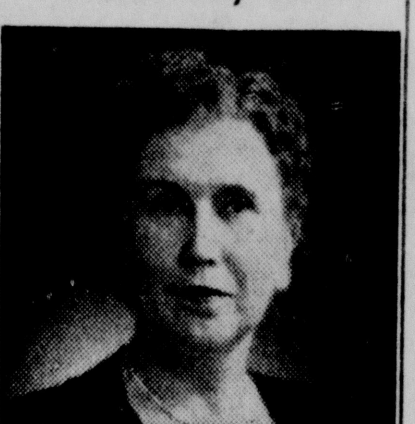

Immediately after the ceremony, a reception was held in the basement of the church with 100 guests present. The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with white wedding bells topped with a miniature bride and groom. A lace cloth covered the table and crystal candelabra held blue tapers. Bouquets of pink carnations and white snapdragons decorated the room. Mrs. Francis Mothersbaugh, Clinton, aunt of the bride, Mrs. Delbert Adams, Warrensburg, Misses Betty Ann Lamont, Carolyn Parsons and Patsy Fisher, Warrensburg, served at the bride's table. Miss Dorothy Lynde, Knob Noster, was in charge of the guest book.

The couple left Sunday night to visit the bridegroom's parents in Dayton, Ohio. For traveling the bride chose a navy blue suit with light blue trim and blue and white accessories. She wore an orchid corsage.

The couple will live in Knob Noster. The bride will graduate from the Knob Noster High School in May.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the Dayton High School and has been stationed at Whiteman AFB since January, 1955.

Among out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Morgenstern and son, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morgenstern and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Hillard Benz and family, and Mrs. Carroll Ruffin, Kansas City; Mr. and Mrs. Ole Parker and daughter, Chillicothe; Mr. and Mrs. Francis Mothersbaugh, Clinton; Mr. and Mrs. Milton Lazenby, Green Ridge; Mrs. Walter Mills and family, Irving, Kan., and Mrs. Louis Benz, Dresden.

Judas-He Betrayed His Master

(This, second of an Easter Week series, deals with Judas Iscariot, the incomparable archtraitor, who, withal, must have been a man of gallant hopes and daring adventure to have served, so long, the cause of Jesus.)

By GEORGE CORNELL
AP Newsfeatures

The deed was done and now terror walked with him in the night. Judas Iscariot shuffled along the dark, narrow street, his deep-set eyes black as death. His unsteady hand fingered the 30 shekels in the purse tied at his girdle. He shuddered.

"Why did I do it?" he muttered wretchedly. "Why?"

The priests—curse them—they had been so glad when he first went to them with his plan a few days ago but now that he had carried it out, they spurned him. Like all the others.

"Yea, like all of them—John, Peter, Philip and all the rest!" They always had demeaned him, listing him last among the 12, giving him the menial jobs to do like carrying the common purse and tending to provisions. But what had it got him? Nothing!

He had been like a stranger among them, an aloof, gruff man from Kerioth, while all the others were congenial Galileans. He had never found warmth for himself among them.

For three years, he had sacrificed all to follow the "Master," serving Him dutifully, awaiting that promised great victory. But it never came. His only reward was distrust, even by Jesus Himself.

"Yet it was true—He knew!" Judas lips twitched. He quickened his step, his footfalls making ghostly sounds against the stone walls, his aimless course pursued by dark shapes and phantom whispers.

It had only been last evening that they reclined in that large upper room around a low table spread by the women followers with salted fish, oil-beaten eggs, preserved vegetables, roasted kid and fruit.

It had been a shock when Jesus said mildly, "One of you will betray Me." All sat stunned, and then Peter nudged John who reclined on the couch at Jesus' right, and they began asking, "Is it I?"

"It is one of the 12 that dipeth with me in the dish," Jesus said. Judas stuffed the bread, sopped with sauce, in his mouth and winced as Jesus glanced at him casually and said, "What thou doest, do it quickly."

Judas left hurriedly, the others never realizing his intentions, but thinking he was going on some usual purchasing errand at Jesus' orders.

His mind had stormed with anger and recklessness. He had endured enough of this beragled little ban, wandering the desert, the cities, mingling with scum, comforting the sickly, the beggars and the wicked.

The "Master" wasn't even practical. Just five days ago, he had defended some harlot in anointing Him with 300 denarii (a year's wages) worth of spike-nard perfume—against Judas' complaint that it was a waste.

If Jesus actually was the Messiah, he could summon legions of angels to save Him from any enemies. If not, He rightly should be now—and his own role in it it flamed him.

The silver the temple priests gave him was miserly, about enough to buy a lame slave. It meant little to him, in the fury of his vindictiveness, frustration, loneliness and hunger for prestige.

His body tingled as he had guided the priests and Roman military detachment of more than 100 men armed with bludgeons and swords, out the east city gate, down through the dark valley of Kidron, across the brook and up to the slope to the Garden of Gethsemane.

His information of the nightly meeting place, at a friend's country house, was what the authorities needed to arrest Jesus. They feared an open public arrest would arouse the many partisans that gathered to hear Him.

Judas, walking at the front with the chief temple officials, reminded them, "Whosoever I shall kiss, that shall be He." A kiss was a normal greeting.

The torchlights made grotesque, leaping shapes on the olive trees and hedges, and suddenly, there was a murmur of voices, and Jesus stepped forth out of the darkness.

"Hail Master," Judas said, and kissed Him.

Jesus' words cut like a blade.

JUDAS

A personality study by Guy Rowe

"Betrayest thou the Son of Man with a kiss?" Judas glanced nervously at the priests and elders. The soldiers lingered behind.

Peter, brash as usual, slammed out with a sword. But Jesus intervened.

"Suffer ye thus far," he said. "I must drink the cup which the Father has given me."

At this point, the formidable Roman contingent moved forward with their clanging weapons. The apostles, including Peter, fled in fright. Judas smiled grimly.

Jesus was bound and led away. Judas was ignored. He tried to rejoin the priestly leaders, but they were done with him, scorned him. They had paid their petty bribe, sealed the bargain, and now he was again cast aside, a lonely resentment seething in him.

He lurked outside the house of the powerful priest, Annas, saw Jesus abused and beaten, and then at the council meeting before the high priest, Caiaphas, heard the denunciations, the finding of guilt. The weight of his deed came down upon him. Dismay struck his heart.

All night, he wandered, stumbling over the refuse and beggars in the street, his eyes unseeing, his soul a volcano of tormented memories.

He made his way to the temple, his body numb, his eyes glazed and bleak. He sought to return the silver, whimpering, "I have sinned."

They laughed at him. "What is that to us?" Judas flung the 30 coins on the temple floor and walked dully away.

Daylight had come fully, and the streets swam with noise and people. Near the Roman fort, workmen were building crosses and

Smithton Man Is Named Dairy Month Chairman

Paul Selken of Smithton has been appointed Pettis County chairman for June Dairy Month by Paul L. Porter, state chairman.

Porter, who is chief of the dairy division, State Department of Agriculture, said that the program planned by the various branches of the dairy industry calls for June activities in every city and county of the state. Chairmen have been appointed to head the activities of each county.

"Emphasis this year is on the merchandising of dairy foods," Porter wrote in his letter to county chairmen. A manual of suggested activities will be sent to the county leaders within a few weeks. Porter stressed the importance of the dairy industry to the economy of the state of Missouri and also stressed the value of milk and milk products in everyone's diet. Because of these two factors, Porter is urging the dairy industry to give their full cooperation during June.

This year the promotions are centering around merchandising programs in grocery stores and restaurants.

James E. Lawson To Politic Publicity

James E. (Jake) Lawson, former Sedalia newspaper man on the staff of the Sedalia Democrat, accepted appointment as publicity director of the campaign of Warren W. Shaw for the Republican nomination for governor of Kansas.

Announcement of his selection came from James V. Pratt, campaign director.

Lawson, 44, a veteran newspaperman, headed the Associated Press bureau in Topeka eight years before his resignation recently. His tenure in that capacity was longest of anyone assigned the bureau there.

He is a veteran of World War II, and entered the army as a private and was released as a captain in the field artillery after four years of service, most of it in the Southwest Pacific.

At the close of the war he was

Woman Files Fourth Divorce Suit Against The Same Husband

CHICAGO (AP) — For the fourth time since 1950, Mrs. Dorothy J. Powell, 35, has filed suit for divorce from the same man.

"This is it, I really mean it this time," Mrs. Powell said as she filed the suit in Superior Court against her husband William, 29, a metal worker. She said this time there would be no reconciliation.

Her latest action, she said, came after her husband "mangled" her arm in a door and then went home to his mother.

Jerry Colonna Television's TopCommuter

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (U) — Television's champ commuter is brush-faced Jerry Colonna, who journeys from here to New York each week for his duties as the Super Circus ringmaster.

The long-time sidekick of Bob Hope has finally found a niche for his unique talents. Jerry is capital as the slightly wacky emcee for the Sunday afternoon circus show. His zanyisms are imitated by the kids and can still be appreciated by adult viewers.

This blessing for his career has one disadvantage: the show is done in New York and Jerry lives here. So he has become one of the airlines' steadiest customers.

Jerry was resting between trips when I caught up with him at his Studio City home.

"Yes, it's something of a grind," he admitted, "but I have gotten used to it. The main problem is killing time on the 7½ hours that the plane trip takes."

The comic generally leaves Los Angeles on Friday, reporting to Super Circus rehearsals on Saturday. After sketching out the show, he has the evening off and fraternizes with his show business pals. He works all day Sunday until show time at 5 p. m. He takes off for California that night or Monday morning.

"That gives me the whole week at home," he explained, "or I can play a date somewhere. At least I don't have to kill time in New York. I lived there for 15 years, and that was enough for me."

The network picks up the tab for his plane fare, so that eases the financial burden. But Jerry admitted he won't be able to keep up the commuter routine forever.

"The show has just been renewed for 39 weeks," he said. "I think this summer I'll have to close up the house here and move my wife and boy, who is 15 now, back there. We'll put him in school and rent a place on Long Island or somewhere."

Basketball Causes Three Fire Alarms

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (U) — Pupils at St. Joseph's school are telling frustrated firemen "that's the way the ball bounces."

Two fire companies have been called to the school gymnasium by an alarm box three times in the past 11 days to find basketball games but no fires.

Fire Capt. Clifford Purdy said the ball broke the glass on the alarm box and hit the alarm handle.

Prisoners Protest

HEREFORD, Tex. (U) — Prisoners at the Deaf Smith County jail don't care for the latest improvement, that of using carbon tetrachloride as a clean fingerprinting ink off their fingers.

Jailer Charles Skelton said they were fond of licking the old cleaning fluid off their fingers. He had been using whiskey confiscated in raids to remove the ink.

Unless caught by lobstermen, or eaten by predators of the deep, lobsters can live to the ripe old age of 40.

Only Republican president to serve two full terms was Ulysses Simpson Grant.

"PICNIC." Based on the Pulitzer Prize play, NOW PLAYING at the UPTOWN Theatre in Cinemascope and color by Technicolor with a cast topped by William Holden, Kim Novak and Rosalind Russell, without a question, the finest picture of the year and sure to get the top Academy Award this week as best picture of the year. If you haven't seen it, take the managers word, there is none better. Those who have seen it are seeing it a second time.

Students Represent Sedalia Rotary at District Meeting

By Bob Mason and Nancy Oswald

On March 12 Bob Mason and Marcia Rissler attended a district Rotary meeting at Jefferson City. The two senior students represented the Sedalia Rotary. Attending the meeting were some 53 students chosen from Missouri high schools, representing about 19 Rotary clubs.

The trip included a visit with Lieutenant Governor Blair, a speech from the Attorney General of Missouri, a trip through the Jefferson Building, Governor's mansion, and the state capitol. These students were also able to watch a session of the Missouri Senate in action. Much enjoyment and knowledge was gained from the trip.

Wednesday morning the Smith-Cotton cheerleaders and the entire student body along with faculty members gave the Sedalia Tigers a rousing send-off for St. Louis and their big game with Cleveland High in the Washington University field house.

The Spiz Club also attended the game, leaving Sedalia at approximately 2:30 Wednesday afternoon on the school bus. Some 53 Spiz members were accompanied by Miss Lois Gordon, Spiz sponsor, Dr. Heber Hunt, Cecil Glenn, and several other faculty members.

An assembly for the Junior High School students was held Wednesday morning during the first hour. Vice-president of the Junior Council, Fred Schofer, introduced Mrs. Carl Schrader, head of the music department at Smith-Cotton. A number was played by the high school band followed by a clarinet quartet composed of Kenzie Shepherd, Jim Alcorn, Leland Payton, and Cay Caraway. Following another band number was a French horn quartet consisting of Nile Davis, Gary Gordon, Leroy Street and Don Eddy and a trumpet solo consisting of Ronnie Hoppes, Clifford Robinson and Bill Sutton, accompanied by the band. Next on the program was a saxophone quartet with Dale Anderson, Billy Kriesel, Charles Robinson and Marvin Maune. The program was concluded by another band number directed by Bob Cummings. Suggests Man Create Own New Worlds

PASADENA, Calif. (U)—An astrophysicist proposes that man solve his problem of overpopulation by creating a hundred new planets with a climate like the earth's and moving to them.

Such a project definitely is possible with atomic energy, Dr. Fritz Zwicky, noted California Institute of Technology rocket expert, told a reporter.

Great portions of major planets like Jupiter, Saturn and Neptune would be scooped up under the plan and transferred to smaller planets and their satellites. Orbits of the enlarged planets would be changed to make their course around the sun roughly comparable to the earth's.

Forces unleashed with the hydrogen bomb make it possible to provide suitable planets for emigrants from our sphere, Dr. Zwicky said.

"We can bomb Jupiter and other major planets out of their orbits and into other orbits more to our liking," he said. "We can transfer great masses from the surfaces of the big planets to the smaller planets and satellites and make them larger."

"Increasing the size of the moon, for instance, would increase its gravitational pull to a point where it could build up and retain an atmosphere similar to that of earth."

A ship to carry men from one planet to another could be built within 10 years or so, he said.

Hold Tri-County Play Festival in California

Brown, James Rice, Warren Cheatham and Patty Moore. They were accompanied by the speech instructor at Smith-Cotton, Miss Anna Sawford.

The music contest which is usually held earlier in the school year will be held on Tuesday night, March 20, in the auditorium at Smith-Cotton. The concert is under the direction of Mrs. Carl Schrader and at this time the orchestra, glee clubs and band will present several very enjoyable selections. This concert is open to the public.

It happens in the Ozarks...complete to Model-T. Black-eyed peas and hominy, is the Parents Magazine medal award movie, "Come Next Spring," starting today at the Fox Theatre. Children's Swallowing Habit Keeps the Doctors Hopping

"The baby swallowed Father's cuff link!"

Mother calls the doctor. Father calls the fire department. Hysteria reigns until Junior finds the missing cuff link under the bed.

Scenes like this have happened in almost every household where there is a baby. Children seem to be born with the desire to swallow anything small enough to be fitted into the mouth. Unfortunately, too often the cuff link is not under the bed. Baby really has managed to swallow it. Fortunately, doctors are constantly developing new ways to get it out again.

As early as 1620, medical history tells us, a surgeon removed nine coins swallowed by a boy who was about to be robbed. Today doctors try to find ways of avoiding surgery in removing objects that children swallow.

One new way of removing a metallic object is use of a very small magnet on a string. The magnet can be put into the throat and allowed to work its way down into the stomach or intestines. It is then withdrawn, pulling the indigestible tidbit with it. Doctors

Wolf Trouble

IDABEL, Okla. (U)—Courthouse workers are hoping that they can cut red tape and get a new system for paying the $2.50 bounty for wolf pelts. Before the money can be paid, it is necessary for each of the three county commissioners and the game ranger to view the pelt and sign the form. It takes time—and the pelts begin to smell more like skunk than wolf.

objects were eliminated; a few had to be removed by surgery. He left the hospital in the best of health—ready to swallow anything else he could get his hands on.

Foreign bodies which get into the windpipe and lungs are perhaps the most dangerous to children. If not coughed up, clogging of air passages results. Emergency removal is usually necessary.

Doctors do their best, but the important task in preventing the tragedies that can result from swallowing odd objects is up to parents. It's a 24 hour job to protect baby from the strange diet he will follow in his natural desire to try the taste of anything and everything.

WHEELING, W.Va. (U) — When Dog Warden William Custer found a lost dog, he read in a Wheeling Intelligencer want ad that it had been lost by a man from Garnet, Kan.

Custer, at his own expense, telegraphed the Kansas he was shipping the dog and took it to the express office in a $20 wooden shipping crate. The other day, Custer got a call that his crate had been returned so he went to pick it up.

The crate had been shipped collect and Custer had to pay shipping charges out of his own pocket.

An Irishman Becomes Giant On Every St. Patrick's Day

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—What is it to be Irish?

On 364 days of the year being Irish isn't visibly different from being French, Italian, Jewish, Serbian, Dutch, or — yes — even English.

The Irishman pays his bills, complains against his taxes, does his work, and listens to his wife like the man of any other race.

But on this one day of the year — holy St. Patrick's Day — the Irishman becomes an Irishman. And on this day you have to be Irish to know what it is to be Irish.

The outer signs, of course, can't be seen by all. The Irishman overnight grows a foot taller and stalks the earth a giant. All traffic lights turn green before him, and if they don't he sees red.

But this air of majesty is only token evidence of interior change. The men of other races who envy the Irishman has bearing on St. Patrick's Day would envy him far more if they could look inside the Irishman's soul.

What is it to be Irish?

How can you put the wonder of it into words? If a psychiatrist stretch himself out on his own warm couch after his last customer had gone home, and he dreamed of the man he himself would most like to be — well, he might be perfect, but he'd still be only half an Irishman on St. Patrick's Day.

What is it to be Irish?

It is to have an angel in your mouth, turning your prose to poetry. It is to have the gift of tongues, to know the language of all living things. Does an Irishman pause and turn an ear to a tree? It is because on his day he wants to hear what one sleepy bud said to another as it opens its pale green hands to the warm sun of spring.

What is it to be Irish?

Oh, on this day it is music. Not just the cornet in the parading high school band, but the deep, deep music of living; the low, sad rhythms of eternity. The Irishman hears the high song of the turning spheres, the dim lullaby of the worm in its cocoon. All the world is in tune, and he is in step with the tune, the tune that only he can hear.

What is it to be Irish?

It is to live the whole history of his race between a dawn and a dawn — the long wrongs, the bird-swift joys, the endless hurt of his ancestors since the morning of time in a forgotten forest, the knock-at-his-heart that is part of his religion.

What is it to be Irish?

It isn't only the realization that he is descended from kings. It is the realization that he is a king himself, an empire on two feet striding in power, a strolling continent of awe.

What is it to be Irish? It is to walk in complete mystic understanding with God for 24 wonderful hours.

School Students Give Money to WAFB Fund

Chaplain Karl F. Schofer, of Whiteman Air Force Base, home of the 340th Bombardment Wing, said this week that the base chapel had received nearly $18 which represented a donation from first and fourth grade classes at the South East Elementary School, in Warrensburg, for the base memorial fund.

The students who contributed to the fund represent the classmates of Nancy P. and Judith C. Gianokos. Both are children of the late Captain James P. Gianokos who was killed in the recent crash of a Whiteman B-47 bomber.

Chaplain Schofer added that the contribution will be combined with other donations and will go toward an appropriate memorial for the four crewmen who perished in the accident and will be placed in the new base chapel when it is constructed.

Painful Chop
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Police officer E. J. Fivel used a "judo chop"—a sharp blow in the back of the neck with the hand—to subdue a man who resisted arrest. It worked. The man was jailed for creating a disturbance. Fivel went to a hospital with a little finger broken in three places.
